Canada's Great Statesman

Many years must pass, many secret records must be read and many books written before the Canadian people can reach a full verdict on the political career of Mr. Mackenzie King who died in Ottawa on Saturday. This career stretched over such a long period, and so completely colored the life of Canada from 1922 to the present, that its appraisal requires the exploration of the most crucial era of Canadian history—an era which altered the whole life of Canada, changed its status in the world, made it the greatest of the smaller nations and finally joined it to the beginnings of a new international system of free states. With the evidence so far available, it is only possible to name a few of Mr. King's contributions to these huge results.

Mr. King's career, which always has reflected so accurately, both in its triumphs and failures, the thinking of the Canadian people, was sharply divided into two phases. The path which he had marked out for himself as a peaceful reformer was suddenly blocked and turned into another direction by the impact of the second war. His work must be considered, therefore, in two fairly distinct compartments. He must be judged both as a peacetime statesman and as a war leader. In both roles, the one natural to him and the other imposed by circumstances, his success marks him as one of the major figures of Canadian history and perhaps, all things considered, our greatest prime minister.

In peace he was the chief architect of great social reforms which are underestimated now because they were dwarfed by the two cataclysms which afflicted our time—the depression and the war. But history will find that he, more than any other man, laid the foundation on which the growing structure of social legislation is being built.

As a peacetime statesman his objectives carried far beyond Canadian borders. From the beginning he built his plans primarily on the extension of Canadian foreign trade. For the first decade of his party leadership the obstacles to trade were almost insuperable. He began to reduce tariffs when he came into office, but his work was reversed by the Bennett government during the depression. He had hardly returned to his task after the election of 1935 and begun again the reduction of trade barriers before the war seemed to sweep away everything he had accomplished.

But the war succeeded, where peace had failed, in convincing the major free nations that, without a new world trading system, there could be no prosperity or security for anyone. Seizing this new opportunity, Mr. King made Canada one of the leaders to the return to world trade. No man had more to do with the creation of the Geneva system than he and it must always remain a milestone on his march. He did not remain in office long enough to complete the great project but to his successor he bequeathed a structure which certainly can be completed, if it is not torn down by its enemies.

History may find, however, that Mr. King's most important work, before the war, was in the field of Commonwealth relations. Several of his predecessors, notably Macdonald, Laurier and Borden had asserted Canada's status as an independent nation in its own right. Mr. King not only repelled an attempt to reverse this national evolution; he strove for, and saw its final consummation. At his retirement, he could only say that Canada's total independence was not only written in law, but, more important, was supported by the Canadian people and by the power of the nation.

When Mr. King was pushed, unwillingly, into the orbit of international affairs his record, at first anyway, becomes much less distinct. It is now evident that he completely misjudged the world situation in the days when it might have been saved from the disaster of the second war. In the thirties when the conspiracy against peace was hatched, Mr. King refused to see it. He was an isolationist and an appeaser. His sovereign remedy for all international problems, which turned out to be no remedy at all, was the catchword of "no commitment," when he should have seen that events were committing Canada to certain courses beyond his power or any man's to avoid them.

As events destroyed the catchword and enforced their iron logic Mr. King suddenly underwent one of those inner transformations which mark a man big enough to see his errors. When war came Mr. King was ready for it. The conciliator became overnight, contrary to all public expectations, the greatest war leader in Canadian history. A library doubtless will be written to examine, to criticize, condemn and praise his methods of war leadership but the final verdict must rest upon the fact that, under him, Canada achieved a power of war unequalled at any time by a nation of this population.

Nothing can alter this single fact. How much of the credit belongs to Mr. King, historians will argue for years to come but few will deny that he gave the country the kind of steady government in which the full resources of the nation, material and spiritual, could be mobilized. His leadership lacked inspiration on the surface. It generated no oratory and seldom touched the Canadian imagination, yet in retrospect we can see that Mr. King's war program was built on almost recklessly imaginative lines. It seemed far beyond the capacities of the nation to carry it through. It was carried because Mr. King had judged Canada's strength better than anyone else and somehow managed to concentrate and direct it.

His grasp of the larger implications of the war are seen in the Ogdensburg Agreement, in the Hyde Park Agreement, in Canada's huge measures of aid to foreign countries as well as in its direct military contributions. At the same time Mr. King was learning the implications of peace. He was among the first statesmen to advocate a world organization of collective security and even a world government, a total renunciation of his prewar position.

He more than any other man wrote the special status of the middle powers into the Charter of the United Nations. The final achievement of his life, and perhaps the most important, was the commitment of Canada to a North Atlantic defence agreement even before the United States had seriously considered it.

I.W.A. Asks For Board Conciliation

Officials of the International Woodworkers of America will make application for conciliation board to consider their wage and working-condition contract with the Interior Lumbermen's Association. Meeting in Kamloops last Friday, it was revealed that neither party could agree on several questions. T. MacKenzie, Vancouver member of the I.W.A.'s International Board, and R. A. Mahoney represented the lumbermen's group during negotiations. The I.W.A.'s 1,500 members in the upcountry have set their sights on a 17-cent an hour across-the-board wage increase, a union shop, and a 44-hour week with time and one-half for all work on Saturday afternoons and Sundays. Present rate is 97½ cents an hour for common laborers, and the union is asking for $1.14½ cents. Main points that will be considered by the conciliation board are: union shop; increase in wages, and hours of work.

MERCURY HITS 90 WITH NO LET-UP IN SIGHT YET

Contrary to popular belief, yesterday was not the hottest day of the year. The official high, according to the instruments of E. P. Walrod, official weather observer here, was 90. This, combined with a high humidity, made it seem hotter than it actually was. Highest reading so far this year 92 on July 5. Continued very warm is the forecast. Maximums and minimums for the past four days were:

OGOGO MADE A RUSH TRIP to Vancouver over the week-end to take part in the West Vancouver Regatta and the English Bay beauty pageant, but the latter contest had nothing on these young Okanagan beauties who were on hand to give Ogo a rousing send-off. Judging from reports trickling into the Interior, the Okanagan's famed monster made a big hit at the coast. Transported to Vancouver on a trailer, via the Hope-Princeton Highway, Ogo proved an ideal

RT. HON. W. L. MACKENZIE KING
... a great statesman dies

Hold State Funeral Late Prime Minister Next Wednesday

RIGHT Honorable William Lyon Mackenzie King will be accorded a state funeral in Ottawa Wednesday afternoon. The former Canadian prime minister who will go down in history as one of Canada's greatest statesmen, died Saturday night following an attack of pneumonia. Today members of the House of Commons and the Senate, as well as other prominent businessmen and dignitaries, are converging on Ottawa from all points of Canada to attend the funeral which will be held at St. Andrew's church Wednesday afternoon. His body will lie in state in the parliament building from 10 a.m. tomorrow until 9 p.m., and on Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The funeral procession will start from the parliament buildings at 3:30 Wednesday and proceed on foot to St. Andrew's church. From there the procession moves to the Union Station, and the body will be shipped to Toronto for burial in the Toronto Mount Pleasant cemetery on Thursday. Members of the House of Commons and the Senate have been contacted by W. P. J. O'Meara, acting under secretary of state, ascertaining as to whether they will be attending the funeral. Governor-General Alexander and Lady Alexander, interrupted their holidays being spent in B.C., to attend the state funeral. They will return to E.C. later in the week. The former prime minister was born in Kitchener, Ont., December 17, 1874, and was first elected to the House of Commons in 1908. He was selected as the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier's successor as leader of the Liberal party of Canada at a national Liberal convention held in Ottawa August 7, 1919. Mr. King has been Canada's prime minister since that time, with the exception of 1930-35 at which time the late R. B. Bennett led the Conservatives to victory. In 1948 the prime minister retired and was succeeded by Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent. Since his retirement, Mr. Mackenzie King was busily engaged writing his memoirs.

Family of Three Destitute As Sunday Fire Destroys Patterson Avenue Home

THREE persons—a mother and her two small boys—were left homeless late yesterday afternoon when their small dwelling at Patterson Avenue, near Richter Street, was destroyed by fire caused by an overheated hot plate. Only a few personal belongings have been salvaged by Mrs. Janet Franklin, whose employment at a local hotel as a waitress is the only means of support for herself and her two boys—aged 12 and three. The Kelowna Courier will act as a collection depot for any organizations or individuals wishing to help out this distressed family. Persons wishing to donate kitchen utensils, small furniture and other things that go to make a home, may leave word at the Courier office, 1580 Water Street. Turn to Page 8, Story 1

... AND THEY STILL COME

Number of tourists visiting the Okanagan Valley will probably shatter all records this year. Since the opening of the Hope-Princeton Highway, Americans are visiting coastal points, and then swinging through the interior. And the number of foreign licence plates noticed this morning on city streets, seems to bear this out. Within two blocks, a Courier reporter saw two cars from Florida and other vehicles from Pennsylvania, Georgia, New Jersey, Utah, Oregon, Washington, California, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario. Vancouver cars also figured prominently.

Hockey Club Plans Bingo Friday Night

An all-out effort to wipe out last year's operating deficit so as to begin right away on building up for a successful 1950-51 campaign is being made this week by the Kelowna Senior Hockey Club, with the assistance of the Kelowna War Memorial Arena Commission.

The money-raising scheme where the public can participate in painless manner, will take the form of a monster bingo party at the arena on Friday evening. Hockey club officials point out that though this present hot spell does not seem like hockey weather, still it is time to start making plans for the coming season. Certain financial commitments have to be met right away if a high-calibre team is to be operating here this winter.

The deficit amounted to $3,500 at the time of the annual meeting, but since then the active hockey club has collected and contributed to cut the present deficit down to $2,500.

Hockey and arena officials have made plans for Friday on such a vast scale that they are hopeful all or at least most of the $2,500 will be wiped out.

Kelowna merchants are co-operating in the endeavour. Some of the many valuable prizes that may be won already are on display in some store windows.

Bingo winners will receive merchandise vouchers on the merchant of their choice, good for an article they wish. This ensures prize winners getting something they will find useful.

Arena doors open at 7 p.m. Friday. Arrangements to accommodate any number of people have been made. Full details of the monster bingo night appear on a full page on Page Six in this issue.

Finish Business Area Before Regatta

RE-SURFACING of Bernard Avenue with two and a half inches of hot mix to as far east as Richter Street will definitely be done before the Kelowna Regatta, slated for Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Due to ideal weather conditions, Storm Construction Co. has made rapid progress in resurfacing certain roads outside the city limits during the past two weeks, and The Courier learned from authoritative sources this morning that a start will be made on Bernard either Thursday afternoon or Friday morning.

City Engineer George Meckling confirmed the fact that he had been instructed to raise the sewer manhole covers on the main street, in preparation for resurfacing Bernard. This was started this afternoon.

While the resurfacing operations are underway, traffic on one side of Bernard will be blocked off.

It is estimated that it will take about a day and a half to do the main street as far as Richter.

Storm Construction Co. will then start work on other roads in the immediate vicinity to the city's boundaries, and after the Regatta, will come back to Bernard and complete the resurfacing operations from Richter Street to the Kumi Kourt corner.

Equipment of the road construction company is now being moved to a large gravel pit at Rutland. The pit near the C.N.R. overhead bridge was used to hard surface roads in the vicinity of Okanagan Centre. The Kelowna project was delayed until equipment was moved to Rutland, as the hauling distance was not as great.

Other roads to be hard surfaced include Pendozi Street from the city limits to the K.L.O. Road; The K.L.O. Road, and Richter Street from the city limits to the K.L.O. Road.

Many Attend Service For Brig. Harry Angle

BRIGADIER Harry H. Angle laid down his life in the effort for world peace.

So declared Rev. F. D. Wyatt, padre for the British Columbia Dragons, at a memorial service for the Canadian Army officer who died in an air crash in India last Monday. Brigadier Angle, who was chief military adviser to the United Nations in Kashmir, commanded the respect of everyone, and his spirit still lives today, Rev. Wyatt declared.

St. Michael and All Angels' church was packed to capacity for the simple, yet dignified service. Citizens from all walks of life attended the service, which was conducted by Rev. Wyatt assisted by the Rev. R. W. S. Brown.

Canadian Legion colors were carried into the church by standard-bearers, and the Canadian Legion Pipe Band, members of the B.C.D.'s and members of the Canadian Legion attended in a body.

The service, opened with the hymn "Unto the Hills around do I lift up..." followed by the singing of the 23rd Psalm "The Lord is my shepherd; therefore I lack nothing"; a short address by Rev. Wyatt; "A Side With..." sounding of the lament, and the Last Post.

Rev. Wyatt referred to the July 10, 1947, when Brigadier Angle was killed in an air crash in India.

VLA Settlers Will Get Tips on Farm Management

THE Dominion Experimental Farm at Summerland will be hosts to over one hundred Veterans' Land Act settlers and their wives on two field days to be held this week.

The experimental farm staff under Dr. R. Palmer, superintendent, has co-operated with the Veterans' Land Act in furthering the VLA development program by planning these field days, which should prove of great interest to the veterans.

The field day for small holding operators will be held on Wednesday, July 26, commencing at 2 p.m. Veterans and their wives will have an opportunity to be conducted around the farm by members of the staff.

Landscape features of the beautiful farm gardens, planting plans, types of shrubbery and flowers will be explained as well as information on proper care and cultivation of home garden plots. It is felt that this visual demonstration will be of infinite value to the home-owners in planning for their own properties.

Full time farming veterans will have a field day on Friday, July 28, starting at 10 a.m. Groups of mixed farmers will be shown over the livestock section, and have pasture and field crop management explained and demonstrated. Orchardists will look over the experimental orchard plots, and be given information on spraying, pruning, new tree fruit varieties and cover crops.

The organized portion of the field day will be completed around four p.m., following which the veterans enter the necessary costs.

Marketing Parley Will Be Held Next November

The provincial government will again call a marketing conference of representatives of the producers and distributors of certain classes of agriculture to be held in Vancouver next November, Hon. Harry Bowman, minister of agriculture, has informed the B.C. Federation of Agriculture.

This is the second of such meetings called as a result of representation to the government by the B.C. Federation.

As a result of assistance obtained from both the provincial and federal governments the federation has been instrumental in having certain marketing manufacturers change the misleading wording on their advertising from the word "made with whole sweet milk" to "contains whole milk". The federation also demanded the same stringent inspection regulations governing the handling of milk by the marketing manufacturers as in effect in dairies.

Telephone Rates

On behalf of rural growers in the Okanagan the federation has presented a brief to the public utilities commission objecting to the higher telephone rates charged for farm phones as against that charged in the towns and villages. This practice is not common in other provinces, it was stated. While the upkeep for rural phones may be higher than that in more congested areas, nevertheless a phone in a town home is a luxury and a farm phone is a necessity due to the distance from help in emergency, the commission said.

As a result of representation to the B.C. Federation of Agriculture by both cattlemen and sheep breeders in the interior, concerning the rapid spreading and destroying of the ranges by Ditus Knappewitz, commonly called Star Thistle, the federation has obtained the assurance of the provincial department of agriculture that this weed will be immediately brought under the Noxious Weed Act, and that the department of public works will be instructed to spray the roads and right-of-ways by which this weed is rapidly spreading.

Les Gilmore, a director of the B.C. Federation of Agriculture, has agreed to go to New Brunswick in September to assist in setting up a vegetable marketing plan.

New York has signed up for an apple promotion campaign. They will contribute one cent per bushel.

In Virginia, growers take the position that if they accept government hand-outs they have to accept government controls. And they don't want controls.

The apple industry must create its own markets, said R. B. Graves of Syria, Va., who cited the success of his state's growers in pushing the sale of apple juice—flash, or quick pasteurized, with nothing added to the fresh product. The Virginia growers are going to contribute 1 1/2 to 2 cents a bushel to the promotional fund.

West Coast growers say an ice cream-like product called "Freem" made with apple pulp, gelatin, and other ingredients, could open up a good market for apples if this product were properly exploited. Sale of apple juice in vending machines offers a good outlet, they assert.

The industry is excited over the prospect for frozen apple juice concentrate. Reuben G. Benz of Yakima, Wash., chairman of the apple institute, warned growers that they cannot base their hopes on the success of the citrus growers. The public has to be sold on using frozen apple juice concentrate, he declared.

The whole apple industry looks at the citrus growers with envy and hopes that a similar experience can be had with apples. Minard Farley, Jr., representing the Michigan Apple Commission, said:

Bill Durnan, retiring Canadian goalie, is also a great softball pitcher.

Translucent, but not transparent, a new sun suit promises an all-over tan.

Complete Plant

Spokesmen for the local delegation to California said "it will be a complete plant or nothing," as far as the industry here is concerned.

"Cost of a pilot plant is only slightly under that of the complete operation," one of the fruitmen made the trip reported.

"If a plant is built, or existing facilities used, it would be for the complete juice concentrate operation on a full scale," the spokesman said.

It is expected financing of such facilities will be a major subject. Plants could possibly be built in both Wenatchee and Yakima, it was reported.

Clearing House Secretary Lowe said the Yakima delegation will be headed by Frank Worthen, president of the Washington State Horticultural association and Reuben Benz, Yakima shipper.

He said the future of "Freem" as an outlet for local apples will also be discussed. "Freem" is an ice cream-like product that uses apples as its base.

Editor's Note—Here is an account of the meeting of the National Apple Institute held in Boston, Mass., last week. The headlines read "Apple Growers Shun United States Support and Seek New Outlets."

(Boston Globe)

BOSTON — The apple industry believes its future lies in more aggressive promotion and opening of new markets, rather than in a government price-support program.

Individualistic growers of Delicious, Macs, Jonathans, Baldwins and other varieties, gathered here for their national convention this week, urged crop support people in Washington to forget the apple industry if they have any plans for extending the program in their direction.

Apple growers fear and would keenly resent government intervention, said John Chandler, retiring president of the National Apple Institute. If the government should support the price of apples the whole effort of the industry to stimulate the use of the fruit would go by the board, he declared.

The apple orchards are an independent cult and would rather stand on their own two feet, said Walter G. Martin of Wapato, Wash. Only a small minority is taking the position that "so long as growers of other crops are aided, why not the apple growers, too," according to Truman Nold, executive president of the Institute.

Proponents of apples who are expected to take about one-third of this year's estimated crop of over 110,000,000 bushels, were urged to embark on a more aggressive sales program.

John P. Peters, an apple grower of Gardners, Pa., reported that the advertising program adopted by two packers from his state, who put up more than half of the apple products of the United States, is encouraging. Business they obtain is new business and not taken away from anyone else, Mr. Peters declared.

Washington growers, who accounted for 24 per cent of the national crop last year, contributed $667,000 to an "advertisement" fund at the rate of five cents per 100 pounds of apples shipped.

Over recent months 60 per cent of the apples grown in western

CANADA'S 26TH
NATIONAL PARK
OPENS JULY 29

Canada's newest national park, will be officially opened on July 29. This park, an 80-square-mile scenic area on the Bay of Fundy is the twenty-sixth unit of Canada's National Parks system. It forms a new and important link in the chain of national playgrounds which now stretch from Cape Breton Island on the Atlantic seaboard to the heart of the Selkirk mountains in British Columbia.

Since the area was set apart for national parks purposes, considerable development has been carried out by the National Parks and Historic Sites Service. Roads have been built or improved, and administration buildings erected. Campgrounds in convenient locations have been laid out and equipped.

Fourteen attractive cottages of French chalet design have been constructed to provide initial tourist accommodation. Recreation features include a heated outdoor swimming pool with dressing room facilities; a splendid nine-hole golf course in a picturesque setting; an outdoor amphitheatre where band concerts, sing-songs and picture shows may be held; tennis courts; a bowling green and an athletic field. These improvements will provide recreation facilities for thousands of visitors planning to see the park this year. Preparations have been made for a large attendance at the official opening ceremony on July 29.

Formal Opening

The formal opening will be attended by the Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick, the Honorable D. L. MacLaren who will perform the act of cutting the ribbon and declaring the park officially opened. The Honorable Robert H. Winters, Federal Minister of Resources and Development, will deliver the official opening address. Chairman of the ceremony will be A. Russell Colpitts, M.L.A., and guest speakers include the Honorable John B. McNair, Premier of New Brunswick the Honorable Milton F. Gregg, Federal Minister of Veterans Affairs and D. A. Riley, M.P., for St. John-Albert, New Brunswick.

A special program of events has been prepared for the occasion including an invitation golf tournament, and Frank Robertson, president of the New Brunswick Prince Edward Island Golf Association, will drive off the first ball. At the new park swimming pool there will be exhibitions of diving and swimming. At the MacLaren Pond in the headquarters area the New Brunswick Fish and Game Association will hold a competition in fly and bait-casting for accuracy and distance. The New Brunswick Arts and Crafts School under the direction of Dr. Ivan H. Crowell will provide demonstrations in weaving, leather work and other handicrafts. Local clubs will hold softball and other games on the athletic field. Musical entertainment will be provided by military bands.

A new booklet, printed in four colors, has been issued as a souvenir of the official opening of the park; also a less pretentious visitors guide containing a description of the area, including the flora and fauna, geological features, recreation facilities, with a map and directions for reaching the park by highway.

estimated at £500,000. The opposition twitted Webb that by diverting the profit to food subsidies he was using the money from the sale of the gift to offset trading losses in his department.

APPLE GIFT
UNDER FIRE
IN BRITAIN

LONDON (CP)—A £500,000 ($1,550,000) profit from British Columbia gift apples to Britain will be used to provide initial tourist accommodation. Recreation features include a heated outdoor swimming pool with dressing room facilities; a splendid nine-hole golf course in a picturesque setting; an outdoor amphitheatre where band concerts, sing-songs and picture shows may be held; tennis courts; a bowling green and an athletic field. These improvements will provide recreation facilities for thousands of visitors planning to see the park this year. Preparations have been made for a large attendance at the official opening ceremony on July 29.

Webb told the House of Commons Canadians would "resent" it if money gained from the sale of apples were returned to the Dominion. It had been decided to retain the profit to offset British food subsidies, which now run about £400,000,000 a year.

I have given careful consideration to many suggestions for using the profit from this most generous and acceptable gift, but one must bear in mind that it was clearly the wish of the donors of the apples that any ensuing profit should go to the citizens of the United Kingdom," Webb said.

Anthony Marlowe, Conservative member for Hove, asked whether Webb had consulted anybody in Canada. The minister repeated that Canadians had been consulted and would "rather resent" it if the money were returned.

The episode was the latest instalment in a series of stories that the opposition has been following closely ever since the gift of 1,000,000 bushels of apples from British Columbia was first announced.

Conservatives repeatedly ask questions about the apples. A couple of weeks ago following questions the ministry acknowledged that only a small proportion was distributed free to school children. The rest "was sold in a normal way and the profit was

Memories of Yesteryear Recalled; Newspapers Cover Walls of Home

Alterations to the home of John Gervens, near the Vernon Road, one of the first houses built in the Okanagan Valley, reveal that life has indeed changed during the past 67 years. Old newspapers clung to the ancient plaster, show that the early residents were readers of the London Illustrated News, dating as far back as 1883.

The Gervens family has resided in the dwelling for the past 20 years. Prior to that it was occupied by the Fleming family for 19 or 20 years. Preceding them was the Dilworths. Despite the accumulation of years, the beams of the house are as sound as a bell and look quite capable of enduring for another sixty years.

Constructed on an old mill site and built with logs, the name "Brent Davis Water Users Community" is still in effect. A pulley shaft of the old mill has been converted into a lawn table.

Barely Discernible

Among the quotations barely discernible in the venerable London paper are news stories and advertising. Included is a sketch of the new chief secretary of Ireland, the Right Honorable A. J. Valeur.

An advertisement for Dr. J. C. Ellis Browne's chlorodyne states that it "is prescribed by a score of orthodox practitioners and of course would not be thus singularly popular did it not supply a want and fill a need."

"Cockle's antibilious pills" are also advertised. "My true love hath my heart" and "love's philosophy" also appear.

The opening of the International Fisheries Exhibition was apparently an important affair and a sketch—presumably a wood cut—shows the Royal procession entering the building.

The London Illustrated News, dated November 22, 1884, mentions wills and bequests. A concert, "composed and conducted by Mr. C. H. Parry" is also given "due prominence." A charcoal sketch, done in a law court, shows that the gentlemen of that era were inclined to take a nap or, to say the least, lose interest in the proceedings.

An electric battery belt makes several claims stating that "this is the only battery belt."

Progress of Press

The press has progressed a long way since those early days and a new standard of reproduction makes a striking contrast. Advertising principles have also improved and a much more interesting publication has resulted because of the modern methods in use today.

The occupants of the old house have acquired a fondness for it, secluded among shady trees and alive to the song of many birds. These are not here by accident, as Mr. Gervens is a bird carver extraordinary, and many of his book-ends—birds colored and poised in various positions—add to the charm of many homes in Canada and the United States.

VALLEY FRUIT ESTIMATES ON UPWARD TREND

Estimate of British Columbia's apple crop for 1950 was revised slightly upward Tuesday by the Horticultural Branch over its June 15 figures.

Officials now place the crop at 6,997,520 boxes, which is 375,000 more than was estimated in mid-June.

This is still a decrease of 1,635,056 boxes, or 19 percent from the 1949 crop.

The loss is all in the Okanagan where nearly all fruit trees were hit by the severe winter. Okanagan apple crop is now put at 5,317,420 boxes, down 21 percent from the 1949 crop, but 270,000 boxes better than was estimated in June.

The department has also scaled down slightly its estimate of losses in Okanagan prunes, cherries, peaches and apricots which were all but wiped out by the severe winter.

Peaches will make about 99,315 crates, a 94.8 percent drop from last year's 1,924,131 crates. The June estimate was 74,000. Apricots will go about 29,303 crates, a 93 percent decrease, but about 9,000 cases better than calculated last month.

Today bulldozers are at work leveling the Sicomos park fill, the site chosen for location of pumps and it is expected that water from Okanagan lake will be pumped into the city's water mains by about the middle of August.

In ordering the immediate installation of at least one pump, council gambled on the ratemakers approving the $150,000 domestic water by-law which is to be submitted within the next few weeks.

Confident Ratepayers Will Approve

If the by-law is not approved council will have to pay for the pump installation estimated roughly $20,000 from its slender cash resources, which would seriously hamper and curtail the ordinary work of the departments.

Council however is confident that residents, now suffering from lack of water, will endorse the steps taken to alleviate the situation.

Some householders have difficulty getting sufficient water for ordinary domestic use, it was reported.

Having once made up its mind to act, council rejected the idea of a temporary installation such as has been made last winter and authorized permanent work.

To speed the project tentative plans for a pump house built on top of a dump set in the lake were discarded and the pump house was ordered located on the Sicomos Park fill.

Pipe is now on order with delivery promised in two or three weeks. In the meantime ditches will be dug, power cables laid, pump house built and pumps and transformers installed.

Buildings of the lake pump will be done later and, as an expedient,

Garden Editor Calls for More Dooryard Gardens

"What we need is more dooryard gardens," is the title of an article in February Home Garden magazine by the Editor Ralph Bailey, nationally known garden writer.

"What with the arrival of the garage doors at the street front of our houses and the acceptance of the picture window with the picture of only the passerby to frame, the nostalgic dooryard garden of our grandmother's day merits rediscovery," he begins.

The modern fashion of garages close to the street "makes sense," he continues, "but it replaces the balanced, almost symmetrical facade of tradition with one gigantic window, as now seems to be the thing to do, and what's left of the entrance porch becomes suddenly ridiculous. So, too, does the window itself unless something rather special is done about it."

Even with older houses, with garage in the back yard, he continues, "the old foundation planting gets older and messier as the seasons go by."

Mr. Bailey supports the solution of the front yard problem which has been gaining favor throughout the country—the development of an attractive garden planting in the front yard.

"What about the dooryard garden?" he writes. "What can it do to help the situation? For one

Give Tulips Time to Grow For Flowers This Winter

Tulips and daffodils can be flowered in the home when planted in pots, in what the florists call "good potting soil." Two parts of your best top garden soil, one part sand and one part of peat moss will make a good substitute. Add more sand if the top soil is heavy, thoroughly mix and run through a 1/4-inch mesh screen.

Place each bulb so that its point is half an inch below the surface. Now it is necessary to allow the bulb to make roots; and for this purpose the pot must be placed in a dark and cool place, where it cannot freeze or dry out too much. A cold frame, where it can be covered with leaves, ashes or sand, will do.

When placed in this storage the pot should be thoroughly soaked, and no further watering should be necessary. If stored in an indoor cellar or closet the soil should be prevented from drying out excessively. Root action will follow and when top growth begins the pot may be brought indoors or kept in the storage place and so retarded until wanted.

After being brought indoors the pot must be given all the light possible and kept in a temperature which averages 60 degrees until stems, leaves and flower buds are formed. After buds are formed a temperature of 70 degrees will

Four vital steps to security

(with something important in common)

1. A steady job is the foundation of security. And job-security can be increased by showing initiative—the quality which, surveys prove, makes workers most valuable. Life insurance dollars, invested in industries and public works, create many new jobs each year.

2. Owning your own home builds security two ways. It allows you to make a sound investment through regular savings, and it brings freedom from housing worries. Hundreds of thousands of Canadians now own their own homes, built with the help of life insurance dollars.

3. Cash resources, such as savings accounts and Canada Savings Bonds, promote security by providing funds for emergencies. And it is important to save regularly. Life insurance helps you save systematically for family protection, retirement and other future needs.

4. Life insurance protects you and your family as you build security in all these other ways. It helps to provide income for your retirement. And it guarantees your dependants an income in the event of your death. Thus by owning life insurance you take your most vital step to security!

Here's to your future! In all these ways, life insurance helps you and yours to find greater security. Today 5 million Canadian life insurance policyholders are helping themselves and each other to face the future with increasing confidence!

CURLING CLUB DRIVE GETS UNDERWAY

Members of the Kelowna Curling Club are anxious to contact former residents of Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Edmonton and "anyone from anywhere" who is interested in curling.

Plans and arrangements have already been formulated for the erection of a six sheet curling rink just west of Kelowna and district Memorial Arena.

A minimum of 150 members is required in order to proceed with initial plans. A total of $20,000 of the $45,000 has already been pledged by 30 Kelowna residents—some of these being non-curlers—and the balance will be forthcoming within the next week or two. This is essential in order for construction to start so that it will be possible for members to curl in the new rink this coming winter.

All interested parties are urged to phone Bert Johnston at 1100 without delay. This includes rural residents in the Kelowna district as well. There should be 300 curlers at least in a city and area of this size, it was pointed out.

Nearly extinct a few years ago, Canada now has 1,000 trumpeter swans.

Washington Day Rough On Amerks; Rovers, Aces Win As Bombers Beaten

TWO Washington softball teams here yesterday in a special "Washington Day" are thankful a lasting agreement was reached many years ago on a permanent border between the United States and Canada.

Because chances are if this part of B.C. was part of Washington Wills and Wade of Wenatchee and the Winthrop Athletics wouldn't be state senior B champions in the men's and women's division, respectively.

Certainly on the basis of yesterday's play in Athletic Oval the Winthrop nine would never reach first base with the Kelowna Aces in the same league. And the Wenatchee boys, as smart a men's team ever to appear here, would have to be a little better yet to be sure of picking up all the gravel.

In brief, the Wenatchee team, Washington senior B men's champs, helped give a large crowd on two different occasions a glimpse of how classy ball should be played as they went down to the Rutland Rovers 2-0 in the afternoon and then bounced back to blank the Black Bombers 6-0 in the evening.

Out of Their Class
But the Winthrop girls were so hopelessly out of their class against the high-flying, hard-hitting, superior Kelowna Aces it didn't even prove good watching. The hundreds who did remain to see the end of the massacre were solely interested in seeing how many runs the Aces would pile up. Final score was 7-3.

The two Winthrop pitchers had nothing the Aces hadn't seen before. In fact the offerings were made to order as Bud Fraser's girls pounded out 24 hits, a good third of them fair enough for extra bases.

The overall master of the two afternoon games was the broiling sun that dealt knockout blows to some and just about beat everyone else who couldn't find a shady spot.

Players themselves were hardest hit, many of them to some degree or other, stricken by the over-powering sun. Among those hit was the Aces' star pitcher, Zena Rantucci, who retired from the game in the third inning, already with a victory and a 9-1 lead.

Alwilda Minette, of the stout arm, finished the game for the Aces, setting them down hitless for the other four innings.

The solid-smashing Aces, who dotted the field with hits, banged out four homers—two of them by the home run queen Anita Darroch in one inning. Others went to June Minette and Gladys Skalen.

Best Duel of the Day
Bob Mitchell, Wills and Wade hurler who employs both the orthodox and the windmill styles, combined with Rutland's Jake Runzler to put on the pitching duel of the day. But the latter was the more successful, limiting the Amerks to six bingles and with excellent, errorless support from his fielders, not one of the base-runners could reach home plate. Meanwhile the Rovers pushed across singletons in both the third and eighth for the 2-0 verdict. Mitchell came right back in the nightcap though and set the usually potent Black Bombers down with only six hits. Usually due for a big blow-up late in the game, the Bombers never did connect while the southerners busted out a couple of times against Vic Welder.

The ace fell in the sixth inning of the abbreviated fixture when the Wenatchee lads put together three hits and the game's only two errors for four runs—and the ball game for sure.

The game was called at seven innings to allow the team ample time to get home at a decent hour.

Tigers Clinch League Lead With First Win at Kelowna

VERNON 23, KELOWNA 17

It was a long time coming—that first win for Vernon Tigers on Kelowna Bruins' home floor!

Boonie Sammartino's boys turned it into a double killing that proved interesting watching even if the crowd's favorites ran second best.

Besides knocking the Bruins over for the first time in Memorial Arena this year, the Tigers snipped off any chances Bruins might have had of taking over first place in the Interior Senior B Lacrosse League. The 23-17 win gave the Vernonites a 10-point jump on the second-place Bruins, who have only four games left to play.

The crowd of 1,000—the largest since early in the season—appeared slightly galled after the minutes of fast-stepping action that saw the greatest number of goals scored in one league game this year. Previous record this year was on June 17 when Vernon whipped Kamloops 20-13 at Kamloops.

Scoring Pattern
Six goals without a reply in the first 10 minutes of the game turned out to be the margin of victory in Thursday night's crowd-pleaser. That same six goals set a scoring pattern for both sides nearly all the way through.

Bruins, bounding to life late in the first period and two in the second—to haul the high-flying Tigers down to a 6-5 lead. But then the Tigers' classy razzle-dazzle passing started to function on all cylinders again, and in popped six more shots on Al Laface after a bewildered and sometimes ineffective defense was sidestepped.

In the third quarter the Bruins moved their artillery to the front again, tallying another five straight and then for the third time in the game, the winners rapped in six straight before the string was broken by Reg Martin, to leave the score at 20-12 going into the last frame.

Stan Never Better
Combined with a superb attack by the visitors and a not-up-to-scratch Kelowna checking—showing was a smooch display of nonminding by Stan Hammond—easily his best game here this year and probably his finest of the season.

Only in the last 15 minutes did Bruins grab the better portion of territorial play as they stormed Hammond's fort with 17 shots to the Tigers seven. But they could only beat Hammond five times, while the Tigers countered with three of their own.

Exactly 100 shots were recorded in this furious, free-banging, super-hustler of a fixture that had the goalers doing every acrobatic but handstands.

BOX BANTER—On their all-round performance, VERNON TIGERS deserved to win. They didn't have to use their unpopular—here stalling tactics. . . . BRUINS gave them little time to think about it as they kept pushing right up to the bell.

AL LAFACE got trapped out of his goal again, only this time he had to rush out to snare a loose ball. He lost possession in the centre of the floor, but the Vernon shot on the empty net was what counted.

Old reliable SARGE SAMMARTINO and STAN MILLS had another field day with six and five respectively. . . . REG MARTIN and TERRY O'BRIEN elicited best for KELOWNA, while ERNIE BLANCHARD added six points to his total with two and four. . . . JOHN SHOSAKI made a brief appearance on defence in place of STAN MUNSON, out with an injured foot. . . . For the last half of the game Coach FRED OSTERE used only three rearguards—the RAMPONE brothers—Ernie and Louis—and DON FLEMING. . . . While neither side used kid gloves, the encounter was much cleaner than some previous Vernon-Kelowna tangles. . . . Only major penalty went to O'Brien for his unsuccessful attempt to force Sarge into a brawl. Terry drew five minutes. Sarge two minutes for slugging.

A pleasing half-time novelty were two short bouts by balloon-weights WILLIE FEIST against CHARLES BLAIR and JOE FISCHER vs. NICK BULACH.

Third "man" in the "ring" was EDDIE SCHLUTER.

BLACK BOMBERS REACH FINALS IN 2-STRAIGHT

One big inning was all that made the difference in Wednesday night's ball game as the Black Bombers made the men's senior B final leading to the B.C. crown in two straight over Mandel's Pucksters.

Up to the seventh the underdog Pucksters, who had absorbed an 11-3 whipping two nights before, fought on even terms with the Bombers, who wound up on top of the city and district league.

But a shaky infield combined with some solid, well-timed blows saw the 3-3 deadlock broken once and for all. The same outburst meant curtains for Norm Knippleberg, who up to that time had matters well in hand.

Jimmy Lowe, who went into the game as a right-fielder in the fifth, relieved Knippleberg in the seventh.

The Pucksters pounced on Bombers' Carib Porco right at the start, scoring two runs on Bud Courlie's single and Jim Hanson's circuit clout. But from that point on he was downright stingy with his base knocks, scattering them so they did little or no damage.

FIRST BLOOD FOR BOMBERS
Exploding with a barrage of hits, good for six runs in the fifth inning, the Black Bombers overcame a 10-4 Rutland Rovers' lead to win 13-11 and capture the first game in the best of three final Friday night.

The free-hitting, error-filled fixture also had a good crop of blustering before a large crowd of fans at Rutland Park.

Harold King, who was in attendance at the game as the B.C. Amateur Softball Association's representative in the Okanagan, later warned heads and players of both teams they would be ejected from the next game if they continued in their persistent arguing with game officials.

The second game comes off at Athletic Oval on Wednesday at 6:30. If a third game is necessary it will be played at the oval on Friday.

Rovers, who knocked out CYO in the first round of the city and district playoffs drew a bye into the final while Bombers and Pucksters decided the other berth between them.

Royals Trim Sox For 2nd League Win

Princeton Royals came up with their second victory of the B.C. Interior Baseball League campaign yesterday when they downed the Kelowna Elks Red Sox 8-3 at Princeton.

Despite the loss, the Sox held on to second place behind the Kamloops CYO nine.

The game this coming Sunday may turn out to be the contest of the season for Kelowna fans when the two front-runners tangle at Elks Stadium. In their first meeting, at Kamloops, CYO edged the Sox by one run.

Ontario will outlaw "race, creed or color clauses in property deeds."

BUILDING UNDER THE N.H. ACT?

1. It certainly does not look as if building costs are coming down—they (as we forecasted this Spring) have risen sharply and are now costing the borrower between $700 - $1,000 more to build. In view of the current situation we think prices will rise still further.

2. Loans are made (together with other factors) of a square foot basis and these loans do not keep pace with the rising cost which means the borrower has to put up more cash. It is air adds up to this: If you are contemplating building do it now and take advantage of the large loans, which are still very attractive. Any information you may desire will be gladly given at our office.

LOCAL PLAYERS NAB MAJORITY OF SPOTS FOR PROVINCIAL PLAY

Three Kelowna junior players will make up the quartet who will represent the Okanagan zone in the forthcoming provincial junior lawn tennis championships at Vancouver.

The four, whose expenses will be paid by the B.C. Lawn Tennis Association as part of the junior development plan, were selected by test during the week-end Okanagan zone tournament on the Kelowna Lawn Tennis Club courts.

They are: Norma Horner, Oliver, Okanagan junior girls' singles champion; Valerie Winter, Kelowna, local junior girls' singles queen; Darryl Delcourt, Kelowna, city and Okanagan junior boys' singles titlist, and Bill Barlee, Okanagan Mission, runner-up in the zone tournament.

A more complete report on the tourney that saw the two best players from clubs from Kamloops to Oliver competing, will be carried in Thursday's issue.

BOXING RETURNS HERE SATURDAY WITH FULL CARD

All Weights from 70 to 147 Pounds to be Featured—Shore-Kneller is the Headliner

Amateur boxing, shelved a couple of years ago because of inadequate facilities after struggling along for several seasons, returns on Saturday night with a full card at Memorial Arena.

The night bill features a specialized list of boys and young men—from paperweights to welterweights—mostly from Kelowna and district with a few from Vernon.

Headliner on the 11-bout card will be the meeting between Ralph Shore of Vernon and Larry Kneller of Westbank. Kneller won his spurs in the Vernon Golden Gloves in 1946 while Shore was good enough last year to earn a spot in the Vancouver Golden Gloves.

"Gym" at Arena Behind the revived interest in boxing is still Augie Ciancone, one of the finest ever to come out of the Orchard City and the fact that Percy Downton, Arena manager, has been over the millimeter for of the uncompleted dressing rooms.

By scrounging here and there and with the leather-pushers helping themselves, a temporary "gym" has blossomed.

Four of the half-pint-sized slugers who, if they run true to form will steal the show on Saturday, appeared in a pleasing exhibition during the boxa intermission on Thursday.

LOCAL WOMAN IRKED BY FINE

Florence A. Lane complained to city council over a certain restricted parking area, immediately west of Bennett's Hardware store which is intersected by a pedestrian lane.

Fined recently in police court for improper parking, she claimed the yellow pedestrian line is confusing. The mayor thought her complaint was justified and ordered an investigation.

COOKING A FISH WITH A MILLION DOLLARS

Give a million dollars to a South Sea islander, completely cut off from any place where production is going on, and what can he do with it? Maybe use it to cook his fish.

Business is complicated. It has been defined as a three-legged stool, with one leg the customer who buys the product, one leg the investor who furnishes the plant and tools, and the third leg the worker who uses the tools to make the product.

Even that isn't a complete definition. Most consumers and workers are also investors, and most investors are both consumers and workers.

One thing they all have in common under our system—a common incentive, which is the hope of reward.

Generally speaking, what they want is to live better and in greater security. Toward that purpose our system works better than any other anywhere in the world.

Lorraine Marklinger Will Represent Labor At Lady-of-the-Lake Pageant

A huge crowd witnessed the crowning of "Miss Labor" at the second annual Trades and Labor Ball and Beauty Contest, Friday evening at the Legion Hall.

Miss Lorraine Marklinger, representing Civic Employees' Union, attractively dressed in a white, one-piece bathing suit, was chosen "Miss Labor" by judges Mayor W. B. Hughes-Games, Mrs. J. J. Ladd and Mrs. W. L. Roadhouse. Miss Marklinger will represent Labor in the Lady-of-the-Lake contest.

Mr. W. Mahoney, Trades and Labor Council, introduced the nine beauties as they stepped on the beautiful flower-decked stage. Attired in various colored bathing suits and presenting a spectacular display of beauty and color, they were: Miss Dorothy Dean, "Fruit and Vegetable Workers' Union"; Miss Sheila Henderson, "United Brotherhood of Carpenters"; Miss Ruth Chadsey, "International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers"; Miss Joan Favell, "United Association of Plumbers"; Miss Gloria Holmes, "Bakery and Confectionery Workers"; Miss Evelyn White-man, "Hospital Employees Union"; Miss Fernie Senger, "Teamsters Union"; Miss Lorraine Marklinger, "Civic Employees Union"; and Miss Alice Harding, "Pentecostal Employees Union."

Last year's Lady-of-the-Lake, Miss Jean Ross, crowned the new "Miss Labor", and wished her the best of luck, in the form of words and presents. Miss Marklinger received a beautiful gold and rhinestone necklace, with matching bracelet, earrings and brooch. A lovely lamp was also presented her. Congratulating her on her success, she was given a large, white layer cake. Holding the top layer of the cake were four kewpie dolls, and perched on the top layer was a kewpie doll, dressed in a bathing suit and wearing a "Miss Labor of 1950" banner.

The lovely, colorful evening gowns, and gay summer dresses of the women lent an atmosphere of festivity to the already lively group, as they danced to the rhythmic stylings of Red Hughes and his West-endaires.

LEN LEATHLEY NAMED MOST HONEST GOLFER

"Honest John," they call him. That's what fellow Gyro Club members named Len Leathley, last Wednesday, as he walked away with the most honest golfing trophy at the annual Gyro Club golf tournament. Following the nine-hole tournament, a dinner was held in the main lounge of the Golf Club for Gyro members.

LOVELY SPRING WEDDING UNITES HAPPY COUPLE

A lovely summer wedding, uniting in marriage Miss Bathia Anne King, daughter of Mrs. Georgina King, and the late Mr. King, of Lloydminster, Sask., and Dr. Thomas John, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. O'Neill, of Kelowna, was solemnized last Friday afternoon.

Monsignor W. B. McKenzie officiated at the ceremony held in the rectory of the Church of Immaculate Conception.

Attired in a soft blue nylon dress, fashioned with shirred bodice and full skirt, the bride carried a conventional prayer book, topped with a beautiful orchid.

Bridesmaid and sister of the groom, Miss Sheila O'Neill wore an attractive pink dress complemented by lace at the yoke. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

Groom was attended by his twin brother, Mr. Patrick O'Neill.

Following the ceremony, approximately 40 friends and neighbors gathered at the home of the groom's parents for a lovely reception. Multitudes of gorgeous summer flowers, in all different shades, filled the home with a fragrant scent and added color and festivity to the occasion.

The bride's mother was becomingly gowned in a grey flowered dress, and wore a pink picture hat with matching corsage of pale pink attractive and white. The bride wore a flowered dress, trimmed in white. A white hat and corsage of white mums completed her ensemble.

Presiding at the urns were Miss M. McAllister, sister of the groom's mother, and Mrs. G. Cairns, sister of the bride's mother. Misses Audrey MacIntyre, Wanda Cairns, Hilary Tutt, and Jean O'Neill, acted as servitors.

Sixty shades of tulle and tiny vases of mixed sweet peas surrounded the three-tiered wedding cake, which centered the bride's table.

The bridal couple left on a brief motor trip to the east, and upon their return will reside at 2238 Long Street. For her going away outfit, the bride chose a blue suit, with a pink hat, vivaciously topped by a pink feather. A pink corsage, complemented her outfit.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. G. King, of Lloydminster, Sask., and Miss M. McAllister, of Victoria, B.C.

Aluminum

An Inside Story

1. The nourishing glass of milk from Canada is the happy ending to this story. It started when Nature put aluminum in the earth itself. That is why this important mineral is right in the milk we drink.

2. And Nature gave aluminum qualities that make it ideal in contact with food. Many milk tins... many parts of modern milking machines are made of aluminum.

3. From farm to dairy... from country to city... rich, wholesome Canadian milk is being increasingly carried in aluminum containers to reach you fresh and pure.

4. And to cap it all, many bottles of milk are protected with shining aluminum foil tops. Aluminum assures cleanliness for this most sensitive of all foods.

No other material is more "food-friendly" than aluminum. Whenever you see aluminum on the outside of a food or a drink, there's an "inside story" of perfectly protected flavour, quality and purity.

HORSE OWNERS GET WARNING OVER ANIMALS

Unless horse owners take greater care in tethering their animals, the city will be forced to amend the bylaw which would prohibit keeping horses on vacant property. This was the warning issued by city council Monday night following investigation into complaints of horses damaging property particularly in the south end of the city. A letter received from medical health officer, Dr. Helen Zeman suggested that horse owners should organize into a group and provide stable facilities in an approved location.

YOUTH DIES AFTER BEING HIT BY LOG

A 21-year-old Canoe, B.C. youth died in hospital Thursday a short time after he was crushed by a heavy log while working in the upper McDougall Creek area in Westbank.

The dead youth, whose funeral was held in Salmon Arm today, was Robert James Favell, related to the Favells in Kelowna. A coroner's inquest, convened by Coroner Dr. J. A. Urquhart on Friday, found the youth came to his death accidentally, with no blame attached to anyone.

Severe internal injuries and hemorrhage were given as the cause of death. The coroner's jury was told that a log, for some unknown reason, rolled down on the youth before he could get out of the way. Only actual witness was his employer, Reginald Fulk of Peachland. The deceased man's uncle, Clarence Favell, was also working in the vicinity.

The accident occurred at about 8:30 Thursday morning. Death came two hours later in Kelowna General Hospital. The critically injured workman was taken to hospital in a light delivery truck.

On the coroner's jury were: F. Martin (foreman), R. J. Wall, J. S. Treagold, T. O'Brien, Roy Woud and R. S. Weeks.

Funeral arrangements were handled by Day's Funeral Service. The late Mr. Favell is survived by his mother and brothers and sisters at Canoe.

between English-speaking and French-speaking areas of Canada could not be judged before the second war. His critics alleged that he had succeeded in name only, that his national unity was a flimsy facade which would collapse under the first shock. The test came in 1939. Contrary to the expectations of his enemies and many of his friends, Mr. King led Canada into the war united. This was the greatest achievement in the record of Canadian statescraft since the founding of the nation. If he had done nothing else except to bring Canada through the war an unbroken nation his place in our history would be assured.

But Mr. King will also be judged by future generations of his countrymen for his part in the development and reform of our Canadian society. About this there has been, under Mr. King's leadership, nothing spectacular, sudden or disruptive; nor was there intended to be. Mr. King knew that sudden revolutions often set back the tide of progress. He sought rather to graft reforms into the living tissue of the Canadian system without interruption of its growth. He succeeded so well that many of his reforms are now taken for granted and not even remembered in his name. But the record will show that in labor laws, in the prosecution of monopoly, in social security legislation, in the establishment of the people's right to control the fiscal policies of the nation, Mr. King has been one of the most progressive and, indeed, radical reformers in office during his time.

In this fragmentary record of a prolific and often baffling career it is difficult to identify the secret of Mr. King's success. He was never the typical Canadian. He was never, until his last few years, popular with the people at large. He was almost always obscure in his thoughts and confusing in his public acts. But an inner logic ran through them and it is perhaps the touchstone of his complex life. In a word, he made himself, more by intuition than reason, the common denominator of the Canadian people, the image of their mind, the rallying point of their energies.

In a nation deeply divided by race, economics and geography, he was able to contribute a balance and a unity and achieve a result typically Canadian in its dimensions as in its complete lack of articulation, even of appreciation. Articulation will come later on when all the exhibits of the massive evidence are in. Appreciation, perhaps, will come now that he is dead.

More About 1 FAMILY OF THREE

Called to the scene of the blaze by a general alarm, Kelowna firemen found the fire too far gone to be of any assistance. Prompt action, however, saved a neighboring house, side and roof of which was already ignited by the time the three fire trucks from the Kelowna Volunteer Fire Department arrived.

Need Assistance
Only a small amount of insurance was carried, it was reported. Mrs. Franklin was reported to have been away from the dwelling for only a short time, making sure that her older son had a hat on his head. A short time ago he suffered from sunstroke, requiring hospital treatment.

While an assistance campaign is being organized to rehabilitate the burned out family, the local branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society has applied to the Vancouver office for bedding and clothing.

The trio, for the time being, are staying with neighbors.

NOT SAME MAN FINED UNDER HOSPITAL ACT
As reported in the Thursday, July 20 issue of The Courier, the W. C. Brodie, who was fined for non-payment of hospital insurance, was not W. C. Brodie, of the T. Eaton Co., mail order department, who resides at Bankhead.

CIRCUS OUTFIT BEING DOGGED BY BAD LUCK

King Bros. circus, made a belated appearance here last Saturday.

Originally advertised to take place last Wednesday, the circus outfit was unable to appear when three trucks went over the embankment in the Kootenays. Additional equipment was secured at Spokane, and the circus continued on to Vernon to keep an engagement on Thursday.

The schedule was revised, and the circus returned to Kelowna to appear last Saturday.

However bad luck continues to dog the troupe. Yesterday evening one of the large trucks carrying equipment was abandoned at the side of the road, near Rutland. Engine trouble was given as the reason.

Convicted in district police court this morning on a charge of dangerous driving, James Edward Baga, 21, railroad employee at Revelstoke, was fined $30 and costs. Charge followed a collision near the Postill siding on July 15 between a car driven by Baga and another operated by J. R. Green, Kelowna. Total damage in the mishap came to $500. Nobody was hurt.

ACKNOWLEDGE RESOLUTION

Premier Byron Johnson, in a letter to council Monday night, acknowledged the city's resolution, dealing with the earmarking of social service and municipal aid tax. Aldermen supported Victoria council's resolution which condemned the suggestion that sales tax proceeds be earmarked specifically for education costs.
